UEG Equality & Diversity Statement

As the voice of gastroenterology in Europe and beyond, UEG is committed to providing high quality professional education, innovation and inspiration in research and practice to the entire GI community. In this context UEG has adopted equality, diversity and inclusion as core values and will pursue this policy by creating an environment free from discrimination, by providing equal opportunities and by recognising individual values.

To achieve these goals, an Equality & Diversity Task Force (E&D Task Force) has been created within UEG in order to ensure equality and diversity across all of its activities regardless of gender, race, disability, age, social class, sexuality or religion.
